Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To whom it may concern.

I sincerely hope that the settlement results in a computing trust fund set up by the federal government. Microsoft should contribute to the fund and all K-12 schools who wish to use the fund should supply a proof of instructional and administrative benefit before receiving a grant from the trust fund. The schools should be allowed to purchase any computing technologies they choose. The word or concept of 'Microsoft' should not be mentioned or printed in any association of the trust fund. This will keep Microsoft's marketing ineffectual. It is essential that the administrators of the schools acquire the equipment and software that best suits the needs of the students and both students, instructor, and administrators are free from subliminal pressure.

Allowing Microsoft to supply anything but money to a general fund will only extend its monopoly and its marketing practices.

Thank you for allowing my two cents.
